Catch a glimpse of the new member flash drive kit for your credit union to give to new members designed by Growth By Design Advertising Agency. Your members will thank you and be able to see exactly what the credit union offers on their computer instead of sorting through several papers.

Differentiation from your competition is critical to your success in communicating with members, and a new member flash drive is one high-impact way to connect with your members. You'd be amazed at how little your members know about all of the other products and services you offer - give them a New Member Flash Drive Kit.
